HFB's guide to superfoods products for your store

SETTING THE STANDARD

Newly labelled, each of Seagreens® eight whole food products has complete nutritional analysis and the brand's unique Human Food Seaweed™ information. Research overseen by Sheffield Hallam University and the independent Seaweed

Health Foundation has identified key nutrients significantly higher from Seagreens' Scottish wild harvesting compared to the same seaweed produced by conventional methods. Seagreens says its quality standard covers every aspect of selection, harvesting and production for human food, and enables consumers to identify this quality on pack.
